

Information for Athletes

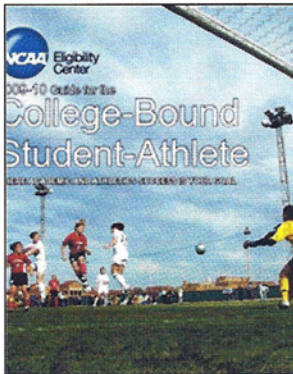

If you are interested in pursuing sports in college, you need to be aware of the eligibility rules of the NCAA.

Go to: www.ncaaclearinghouse.net Eligibility requirements and NCAA links are also found on our school website: www.pvhigh.com under Athletics.

As a prospective college athlete, you should do the following:

- Make sure you meet the core course requirements.
 - Check with your counselor if you have questions
- Register with the NCAA Clearinghouse by submitting your Student Release form (SRF) via the website. (transcripts required)
- End of junior year, check your certification status and submit your final transcript.

The NCAA publishes an annual Guide for the College-Bound Student Athlete. The download is available on the NCAA website. A link is found on our school website: www.pvhigh.com under Athletics>College Bound Guide.

This guide describes NCAA regulations about playing sports in college including: contacting coaches, recruiting and letters of intent.

You may search for colleges that support Division I, II and III programs on the NCAA website. Narrow your search by geographically by conference. Serious athletic evaluation of a college team can be made by noting the placement in conference competition and standing, as well as potential position openings and seniority by examining the roster.

PVHS subscribes to a national directory of college coaches. Consult the College & Career Center for further information.
